Axis Technical Group Welcomes Gregory Howe as Principal AI Consultant

Renowned Expert to Enhance Company's AI Consultancy Practice

ANAHEIM, Calif. – July 10, 2024 – Axis Technical Group, the company that helps clients align their path to growth, today announced Gregory Howe as its Principal AI Consultant. With over 30 years of experience focused on technology leadership, innovation, and implementation, Gregory brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to ATG's consultancy practice.

Gregory's career has been marked by a commitment to leveraging artificial intelligence (AI) to drive business performance and value. His extensive background includes working with clients across various industries, including healthcare, cybersecurity, and legal services, where he has consistently demonstrated his ability to provide strategic guidance and leadership. Gregory earned a reputation for delivering value to clients by ensuring successful AI implementations.

As the field of AI continues to gather significant attention and investment, many organizations face challenges in effectively taking advantage of selecting and implementing the right AI and machine learning (ML) technologies. Axis Technical Group's clients can benefit from Gregory's expertise in overcoming these hurdles, enabling them to make better, more informed decisions.

"I am thrilled to join Axis Technical Group and contribute to its esteemed consultancy practice. The potential of AI and ML to transform business processes is immense, yet many organizations struggle with the complexities of implementation," said Gregory Howe. "My goal is to provide our clients with the insights and strategies necessary to navigate these challenges successfully, ultimately driving their business performance to new heights."

"Gregory's appointment is a significant milestone for our company. His deep understanding of AI and proven track record in delivering value to clients will be instrumental in strengthening our consultancy offerings," said Michael Valdes, CEO, Axis Technical Group. "We are confident that Gregory's leadership will help our clients achieve remarkable success in their AI initiatives."
